

Fear Not the Truth

By Tim Farrow

Mahatma Gandhi said... "The root of satya (truth) lies in Sat. Sat means "Being" and satya—the feeling of being. Everything is perishable except Sat. Therefore the true name of God is Sat, thereby implying that satya (Truth is God). So, instead of saying 'God is Truth', it is better to say 'Truth is God'".

What is the truth? We spiritually inclined folk know that this earth plane is all an illusion, and that the goal is to transcend it by spiritual effort and non-identification with Maya. We seek to attain pratyahara, or removal of material consciousness. We want to attain self-realization, to realize it's all within ourselves already. God (Truth) is in us. We know the only true freedom is to be found within, so we don't concern ourselves with finding the truth of what's being perpetrated by "our" government.

So does it really matter if we are being manipulated by a "hidden hand"? I think it does. If we let those who control the physical world prevail—we are sentencing our children to an even more totalitarian rule. You know intuitively that 911 and "their" war on terror is a hoax. It was perpetrated as a way to remove us from our basic freedoms, and give "them" a free hand to wage war on anyone they brand "terrorist". Don't believe that? Ok. I just ask you to examine why you don't. Is it because it's way too scary to think that our government is not ours? We all grew up with the cold war and a foreign "boogie man" out to get us. But to think the enemy is within is much more threatening. Many people won't let themselves think that 911 was an "inside job", because "they" couldn't really get away with it, even though the evidence is truly compelling. All I ask is that you suspend this belief and give the other information about what is going on a chance.

Time to open our eyes before this gets any worse. The twin towers imploded – controlled demolition. The FBI, when asked by these impartial researchers about the multiple explosions heard by witnesses, and other "anomalies" refuses to comment because there's an "ongoing investigation". When was the last time any new findings were reported? Why was the rubble immediately disposed of?

The Orwellian Big Brother is here now. We are rapidly being steered toward a one-world government, Europe first. How about that Euro dollar? Mayer Amschel Von Rothschild said, "give me control of a nations currency, and I care not who makes its laws". NAFTA is the beginning of North American central control. NAFTA removed taxes and duties from the import of goods manufactured in Mexico keeping cheap labor there—high prices here.

"They" control the news media. It is mind-boggling to most people when they start to see even the tip of the totalitarian iceberg. It's a process to get un-boggled, to come full circle to realization and acceptance. But even if none of this ultimately matters, don't you care to know the truth? If you say no, as many of us do consciously or otherwise, I ask you why? Of course, the answer is fear. It's very unsettling to face this reality, this illusion within the illusion. You're seeking to evolve spiritually by good intention and effort. Why be controlled by fear? It's all Maya—illusion anyway, right? Fear is the vehicle through which "they" control you. Without fear you cannot be manipulated. Please don't judge this information as "negative" or "non-spiritual". Try the observer mode for a just a moment. Only the observer learns. As soon as something judged as negative, bad, wrong etc. a trap door closes in the mind.

Gandhi was an intensely spiritual man, and his non-violent protests changed the world. Stopping the few from controlling the many, is exactly what Gandhi fought for and what we now face. The same nonviolent tactics will work. They always do. Dr. Martin Luther King used non-violence with great success. By not facing truth and challenging lies, the masses become a part of the problem. It is the responsibility of the spiritual seeker to be the wake up call. It is not necessary to identify with the illusion to help transform it.

The world needs you – just as it needed Gandhi. You have already accomplished a mass consciousness shift we are witnessing, but the work is not finished. Gandhi said, "What you do may seem unimportant, but it is most important that you do it". He didn't judge British occupation of India as "negative" and retreat to his meditation room! He looked at it and said, "Non cooperation with evil is a duty".

There are two forces in this universe, love and fear. They are mutually exclusive. You can't have one if you're in the other. Which do you choose? Your decision affects your world and your children's world! Let go of the attachment to fear. Awaken to the truth, and take everyone with you. We can still prevent globalization by practicing Gandhi's nonviolent non-cooperation, but first we must become aware. ☞

Less than 1% of US beef ever sees a blade of grass. They are fed a slurry of liquid food containing grains and the blood and "by products" of the beef industry. Included in this evil potion are the wrong end of pigs and chickens. Chicken manure is a common ingredient. The amount of antibiotics and growth hormone fed to these animals boggles the mind. Keep in mind that these bacteria are mutating on a regular basis. The antibiotics have to be changed constantly to keep pace. They must make them stronger and stronger. Interesting how large kids are these days. Interesting also how hard it is to loose weight. Wonder if the massive amounts of bovine growth hormone people are consuming has anything to do with it.

America is by far the largest supplier of beef in the world. While we eat a lot less beef than we used to, we're still the sickest nation on earth. In other words, we spend more on drugs and doctors, and have the most processed and adulterated food on the planet. Maybe it's time for some experimentation. You read a lot of conflicting reports about what is good, and how bad what isn't good actually is. The best source of health information, I believe, is your own body! Try not eating this crap and see what happens!!!

We need to educate ourselves, and stop relying on the 'experts'. We need to rely even less on officials and politicians. Seems like we've traded common sense, intuition and feedback from our bodies for blind trust in those "authorities". Why do we do this? It's easier. You don't have to think. We've also been conditioned to look outside ourselves for answers and validation. Experimenting with your diet and cleaning the junk out of your system can open the doors to your intuition becoming developed-- or at least functional!! Most of us have an idea of what's healthy and what's not, but we have no clue how bad the bad stuff really is!! You might not allow yourself that yummy doughnut or cheeseburger you've been craving if you have any idea what this stuff actually does, and how much better you would feel without this crap. Imagine what people who eat only raw food must feel like!! Many believe they don't have the will power to change longstanding habits. But all it takes is a little will power and belief in yourself. Don't let them (Big Agra, Big Pharma, Big Medica etc.) strip you of this!! We must start thinking for ourselves. Keep in mind that when animals are killed, they know exactly what is happening to them. They just watched the animal in line in front of them! The meat is full of adrenaline and fear vibration. It is vital to the interest of those who seek to control us that we are afraid. Meat equals fear.
